Funding Guidelines

Eligibility

To be eligible to apply, applicants must be able to demonstrate each of the following:

- Charitable Status. Applicant must be an organization with tax-exempt status of 501c3 or 170(b)(1), other government entity and/or federally recognized tribe, or be fiscally sponsored by another tax-exempt organization. Consult with the grants team if unsure about your organization's eligibility for funding.
- Commitment to Serving Residents of South Snohomish County. Proposed project serves the residents of South Snohomish County, and programs and services offered to residents are for free or on a reduced cost sliding scale based on income eligibility.
- Strategic Alignment. Funding requests must be aligned with at least one of Verdant's Strategic Priorities. Grant applications can request funding for multiple priority areas however they will be asked to select a primary strategic priority and secondary (preference is not given for those opting to select more than one).
- Non-Discrimination Policy. The organization does not unlawfully discriminate in its employment practices, volunteer opportunities, or the delivery of programs or services, based on race, color, religion, gender, gender identity/expression, national origin, ancestry, age, medical condition, disability, veteran status, marital status, sexual orientation, or any other characteristic protected by law.
- Application is Complete. Applicants are required to submit through the online portal and provide all required documents. Applicants missing one or more documents will not be scored and will not be eligible for consideration for funding.

Funding Limitations

Verdant supports a wide variety of organizations and projects in our Service Area. However, there are limitations on what we can and will fund. As a public entity, we have several unique limitations that organizations may not be familiar with when seeking funds from other types of donors, including:

- Funds must be used to serve South Snohomish County residents (see district map)
- Verdant prioritizes funding direct costs for program delivery.

Verdant does NOT fund the following:

- Requests for individuals, pledges, sectarian or religious purposes, political lobbying/campaigns, major capital expenditures, and scholarship funds.
- Subcontracting is not allowed without the written consent of Verdant not less than 15 days prior to the date of any proposed assignment.

Award Term

Verdant grant awards are for a one-year term. Grant partners must reapply on an annual basis for subsequent funding. There is no guarantee of funding in subsequent years, and all grant applications are reviewed and approved anew on an annual basis. A program is funded for one of the following terms:

- April 1 to March 31
- October 1 to September 30

Request Amounts

Dollar amounts vary by organization and project. There is no minimum or maximum request. The average grant award in 2023 was $100,000. Given the increasing competitive nature of funding requests, not all requests will be approved, and some requests may be approved for partial funding. Grantseekers may request funding for multiple programs, but combined proposals are preferred. The application will ask whether you are seeking or have received other sources of funding (e.g., foundations, corporations, individuals, community groups, or others).

Personnel Costs

- Personnel costs include the salary and benefits of organization staff supporting the program. Utilize the notes section of the application to indicate full-time equivalents, roles, or other information to explain the budget request.

Direct Costs

- Direct costs are those costs that are allocated to a specific program, such as salaries for program staff and materials required for the project. These costs would not be incurred if not for the existence of the program being funded.
- Minor capital costs are allowed up to $5,000 in aggregate with useful life of more than one year.

Indirect Costs

- Verdant recognizes that the administrative functions such as facilities, IT, HR, and others are critical to the success of any organization. For the purposes of our contract budgets, indirect costs refer to those costs that are not specifically allocated to the funded scope of work or function of the funded program and/or those that are allocated to support multiple programs/locations. Verdant's allowable indirect cost rate is 8% of the project request.

Review Process

There are three stages to the review process:

- Staff Compliance Review: Staff will review all proposals to ensure:
 - Applicant eligibility
 - Application completeness
 - Priority alignment
- Financial and Program Due Diligence Review:
 - Financial due diligence by the Verdant Finance team includes a review of the financial information provided by applicants. Verdant recognizes that small and new organizations may have fewer resources and less mature reporting systems however it is important for all applicants to demonstrate a commitment to financial recordkeeping.
 - Staff review and score applications based on criteria. Review of programmatic information follows a weighted scoring rubric that considers:

Community
Need 25%

Community
Impact 40%

Desired
Outcomes 15%

Implementation
20%

- Commissioner Review and Scoring: Verdant's board of commissioners meets in committees to review and score applications. The board makes all decisions on funding. Approval of awards occurs at regularly scheduled public board meetings.

Final Decision

While the value of every application is evident, Verdant can only award within available resources, which means that not every application received is awarded and some may be approved for partial funding. Verdant anticipates 2023 to be a highly competitive year. If the application is recommended by committees to the board for approval, the board will vote on all applications recommended for funding at a public board meeting (dates published on Verdant website).

For approved applicants, the grants team will reach out to prospective partners to finalize contracts and give an overview of reporting and payment processes. If an application does not advance to the board for approval, applicants can submit a new application in subsequent funding cycles. The grants team will be available to meet with declined partners to discuss future opportunities.
